Mr. Loch K. Johnson
Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Loch:

In response to your question about contractual and consultative arrangements between CIA and academia, I am forwarding responses from NFAC, OTR and DDS&T. I will forward other responses upon receipt, but in the interests of timeliness, I am forwarding this information now.

25X1 OTR - Since the beginning of FY 1978, OTR has utilized the services of 47 individual professors, representing 32 colleges and universities, as guest speakers in various OTR courses. Total payments to these speakers amounted to [redacted] which covers speaker honoraria, travel costs, and other related expenses.

25X1 NFAC - There are only two contractual relationships with universities or colleges presently in force. The contract with the University of [redacted] valued at [redacted] will be concluded by year-end. The other, with the University of [redacted] is valued at [redacted] 25X1

25X1 - There are eighteen persons with university or college affiliation acting as Agency independent contractors or consultants. In addition, five people are in the process of becoming Agency consultants. Attachments 1 and 2 list these people and provide data on affiliation, date of appointment, expiration date and fee. 25X1

25X1 DDS&T - The DDS&T has legal contractual arrangements, both classified and unclassified, with five universities and institutions of higher learning. The total amount obligated for these contracts for FY 1978 is [redacted]

MORI/CDF

25X1 - The DDS&T has consultative arrangements on a fee plus expense basis with three individuals, and one consultant who serves for expenses only. The estimated cost of the four consultants for FY 1979 totals [redacted] In addition, there are 25X1 94 personal service contracts with individuals from 71 universities [redacted] The 25X1 FY 1978 cost for this service will approximate [redacted] 25X1

The Confidential information in this letter is limited to the paragraphs on DDS&T.

Sincerely,

[redacted] 25X1
